DENIES HOLDING ANY MAN "INDISPENSABLE"

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(UP)—Democratic Vice Presidential Candidate Harry S. Truman said today he agreed with Republican Presidential Nominee Governor Thomas E. Dewey that no man was an "indispensable man" for President.

Republicans—not the Democrats—Truman told a press conference at Democratic national campaign headquarters, originated the "indispensable" argument.

"We never said there was an indispensable man," he said. "We say we believe a man of experience should be in the White House."

Truman charged that Dewey in his "in interesting pictures of a President and Congress of the same political faith," had exceeded the "limits of veracity."

He said that Dewey knows that election of a Republican Senate this year "is a mathematical impossibility," and "the boast that the Republicans can win control of the House is almost as baseless."

30 Nazi Divisions Facing Red Trap

MOSCOW, Sept. 21.—(UP)—The remnants of 30 German divisions reeled back through Estonia and Latvia today before a massive Red army onslaught that rattled the Nazi defenses all along a 200-mile front and threatened to chop up the enemy's Baltic armies into isolated, doomed pockets.

Four Soviet armies, numbering perhaps 450,000 men, were on the attack all the way from the Gulf of Finland south to the outskirts of Riga, herding before them an estimated 200,000 Nazis defending the approaches to both Riga and the Estonian capital of Tallin.

(Radio Berlin said the Soviets also launched their big assault on Warsaw, forcing several crossings of the Vistula river and winning a foothold 500 yards deep in the streets of the capital. Berlin said the bridgehead was sealed off after a wild battle that jammed the quarter-mile wide river with dead.)

Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin revealed last night that his Leningrad army, freed for action by the capitulation of Finland, had been thrown into the battle for the Baltic states, joining the offensive opened by the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Baltic armies.

Spearheaded by powerful tank formations, the combined Russian armies thrust deep wedges into the German lines in at least four vital sectors and observers believed the Nazi position had become critical.

Legion Elects National Head

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Edward N. Scheiberling, 56-year-old Albany, N. Y., lawyer and former judge, was elected national commander of the American Legion in the most riotous demonstration of "harmony" ever witnessed in these parts.

The storm broke midway in the taking of the first roll call, when John Stelle, former Illinois governor, interrupted proceedings to withdraw his very much alive candidacy in favor of "Scheiberling and unity within the Legion."

A spirited version of hell ensued. Everybody stampeded for the platform, while the election of Scheiberling was assumed to have been achieved by acclamation.

Armed with department banners, the upward of 50 delegations made a formidable force and many a head narrowly missed being broken as standard staffs were smashed, hard cardboard were hurled indiscriminately and photographers were all but mangled in the rush.

When things quieted down Scheiberling was discovered on the platform and voiced his thanks to Stelle, who had been his only serious opponent.

His election became a certainty with completion of the roll call of states for nominations. Upward of 30 states had seconded the New Yorker. Stelle, who directed the fight that put over the GI Bill of Rights, was nominated by Illinois Past State Commander, James P. Ringley. The only other nominee was J. Fred Johnson, Jr., of Florence, Ala., a past national vice president.

Stelle had won the votes of 20 states and 118 from Illinois when he rushed to the mike and shouted his withdrawal.

When he could be heard, the national commander pledged the carrying out of the Legion's policies and declared:

"We want a peace with teeth in it—a peace that can be and will be enforced. It cannot be enforced unless there is a practical basis of agreement among peace loving nations, both great and small."

The Legion's new chieftain is a tall man of athletic build, with a full, florid face and thinning gray hair. He is a former Albany City Court judge, a former New York state department commander in the Legion and currently has been vice chairman of the important national legislative committee.

Miller Attends C. E. D. Meeting

Harley Miller, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Post-War Planning Committee, represented Putnam county at the state-wide meeting of Indiana's committee for economic development at an all day session on Wednesday at the Claypool Motel in Indianapolis.

About 450 business and civic leaders from all over the state heard Governor Henry Schricker emphasize the importance of co-ordinating the efforts of all organizations in each county, which are planning to assist war veterans who require rehabilitation aid.

Louis Ruthenburg, Evansville manufacturer and state chairman of C. E. D., warned every Hoosier community that the time for post-war planning is now. Time, he said, is running out.

Strongly emphasizing that all political aspects of placing service men in civilian pursuits must be disregarded, Lt. Col. C. B. Rhoads, officer in charge of personnel rehabilitation for the Marine Corps, today told those attending the meeting that the job of demobilization demanded unselfish co-ordination between military, industrial and government agencies.

ALLIES BATTLE FOR GATEWAY TO THE REICH

TANKS SPEED NORTH WITH BRITISH TO AID TROOPS IN ARNHEM

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's campaign is well over a month ahead of schedule, and his next camp probably will be established in Germany, Merrill Mueller said today in a pooled broadcast from Paris.

WITH AMERICAN AIRBORNE FORCES, Holland, Sept. 20.—(Delayed)—(UP)—The British 2nd Army's drive to sever Holland from Germany stalled today (Wednesday) in the streets of Nijmegen, where a strong German garrison is stiffly defending the vital bridges across the Wall river.

Other German troops are organizing on both sides of the narrow allied corridor running 45 miles north from the Belgian border to Nijmegen, and American airborne troops are preparing to repel any coordinated German attempt to cut the thin lifeline of Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's British spearhead.

The Nazis now apparently see in the British armored thrust and the allied airborne landings a serious threat of entrapment for all their armies in western Holland, estimated as high as 100,000 men.

The American airborne troops who landed south of Nijmegen Sunday secured intact bridges on the river Maas at Grave, but were repelled from the Nijmegen river crossings and the Germans still are holding two vital Waal bridges there.

Airborne troops with British armored elements attempted to storm the bridges yesterday but again were repulsed with minor losses.

Enemy artillery scored some hits on allied supply trucks, and there were several Luftwaffe raids on a recent night, but our supply columns still are rumbling forward, including many bridging units which are given road priority.

Dempsey's column, which began the drive north from the Escaut canal along the Dutch border Sunday morning met only one delay in the 45-mile advance to Nijmegen. That was outside Eindhoven, which the Germans defended fiercely until they were surrounded by American sky troops.

Above Nijmegen, allied airborne units thrusting down from Arnhem on the upper Rhine are engaged in stiff fighting and have not yet broken through to join up with the British armor.

The Germans are pushing tank spearheads, supported by some heavy artillery, westward from the German-Dutch border region against the allied-held corridor between Grave and Eindhoven, and other Nazi units are "sniping" at the road with heavy guns and strong infantry detachments.

The Luftwaffe is staying hidden by day and prowls by night. It made an effort with up to 20 twin-engine bombers last night to cut the supply line in the city of Eindhoven.

Allied parachutists opened the gateway to Holland by freeing Eindhoven Monday afternoon, and the British armor rolled through. The Germans' only success was in blowing up a bridge over the Wilhelmina canal, but airborne engineers cleared the debris and had pilings ready when the British engineers arrived with Bailey bridges Monday evening.

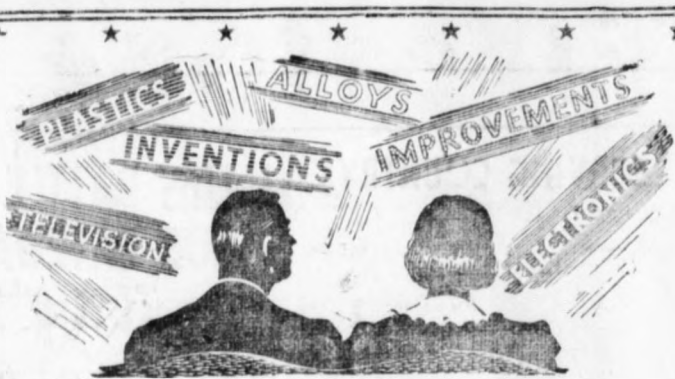

By dawn Tuesday, the British tanks were continuing north. The British commanders stopped long enough at headquarters to congratulate personally the American airborne troops.

Since that time she has been flying about twice a week and plans on getting a private pilot's license. Miss Reynolds says she is sure glad to hear that the airport at Greencastle has been reopened as she is planning a vacation home before long and would like to do some flying around the old home town. Miss Reynolds will soon be qualified to make cross-country flights and she says her first flight will be made to Greencastle.

Miss Mary Louise Reynolds, of 10 North College, Greencastle, came the first local girl to win her wings as a civilian flyer. Miss Reynolds is employed by the Putnam Union Co. at Indianapolis, Indiana, and when the airport at that city was reopened after three years of idleness she became one of the first to start taking lessons in flying. After ten hours of dual instruction under the supervision of Duane O. Otis, Miss Reynolds made her first solo flight on August 18th. 11-TO-5 FAVORITE

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(UP)— Frank Stone, veteran loop betting commissioner, said today that betting on the presidential election was more brisk with President Roosevelt established as an 11-to-5 favorite to win over Gov. Thomas E.
Dewey. Stone said he already had $50,000 in bets on the presidential race.

MAN ROBOT BOMBS made it necessary for these two kitties to leave one of their nine lives when the pilotless explosive hit so close to their London home that they escaped by the skin of their teeth with the help of air raid wardens and friends. Both mother kitten was severely injured. (International)

Rural Route 2, Greencastle, Indiana, back in this country from overseas service, is currently enrolled in the Mediterranean theaters of operation.

The Officers' Maintenance En-

Davao Battered By Yank Fliers

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS,
Southwest Pacific, Sept. 21.—(UP)— Land-based Liberator bombers, intensifying the two-way drive on the Philippines, battered the big port of Davao without opposition in daylight Monday, it was disclosed today as American forces virtually completed their conquest of the stepping-stone islands east and south of the Philippines.

Tokyo radio indicated that the Japanese feared an American landing in the Philippines was imminent.
More than 50 Liberators of the Far Eastern Air Force carried out the attack on Davao, showering 120 tons of bombs on airfields, supply and personnel installations.

The heavy raid, first large-scale operation since carrier planes from Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Fleet hit Mindanao nearly two weeks ago, came as soldiers and marines were cleaning up enemy forces on Morotai, 250 miles south of the Philippines, and in the southern Palau Islands to the east.

The army's 81st (Wildcat) Division already had crushed Japanese opposition on Angaur Island, after killing 600 enemy troops, and the First Division marines were digging out the remnants of the Japanese force jammed in a pocket near the western shore of Peleliu.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced that the marines killed a total of 7,045 Japanese, approximately three-fourths of Peleliu's garrison, in less than one week of bitter fighting on the strategic island, 560 miles east of the Philippines.

SENATE FIGHT IS PENDING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(UP)—
Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., leading foe of American participation in a world peace organization, predicted there would be a "Hell of a fight" when the senate is asked to approve the security plan now being fashioned at Dumbarton Oaks.

Declaring it "absurd" to pattern a new League of Nations before the final peace treaties are signed, Wheeler said he considered it far from certain now whether the plan would get the necessary two-thirds vote for senate ratification.

"That depends," he said, "upon what the American people think of it when they get a chance to see what's in it."

DEWEY IN CALIFORNIA

WITH THE DEWEY CAMPAIGN
TRAIN, Sept. 21.—(UP)—Gov.
Thomas E. Dewey swung into California today prepared to devote the rest of this week and a major speeches to the most determined drive of his 6,700-mile presidential campaign tour for the state's 25 electoral college votes—fourth largest bloc at stake in the November election.

For a state where personal popularity usually means more than party organization, the Republican presidential nominee scheduled major addresses both at San Francisco and Los Angeles tomorrow night, instead of the customary single appearance.

EX-AUDITOR INDICTED

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—(UP)—
A former auditor of an Evansville war plant, accused of defalcations amounting to more than $200,000, and an Indianapolis woman charged with aiding five federal prisoners in an attempt to break out of jail, were among 50 defendants under federal indictment today.

The government charged that John E. Emmons, 47, had issued false vouchers for the money, in an indictment returned by a federal grand jury yesterday.

Keeping American Homes Intact

We're great home lovers in our town. Family folk—like most Americans. So when war came, and the boys left in uniform, and the girls went into war plants, folks began to shake their heads.

Take Ben Ryder's family, for instance—all doing something different. Young Ben's in the Navy, and his sister's in the airplane plant. Ben's foreman at the tool shop, and Ma spends her days at the Canteen.

A broken home? Don't you believe it! When Ben relaxes with his evening glass of beer, and Mom and Sis sit down to their daily letter to him, they're closer together than ever... bound by a stronger purpose—to keep their America intact.

From where I sit, these of America lies in that spirit—in the tolerance and mutual respect and understanding that have made the American family a strong and vital force for good!

OBITUARY

Again, Death has visited our community, and has claimed Margaret Herbert Jones, wife of Bradford Jones, and daughter of Lewis and Mary Herbert. She was born near Cloverdale, Indiana March 10, 1882, on the same day on which her husband was born; and she departed this life September 15, 1944 at the age of 62 years, 6 months, and 5 days.

Her early life was spent on the farm, and she attended a rural school nearby, known as the Herbert School.

On November 16, 1902 she was united in marriage to Bradford Jones. To this union were born 7 children; one child, Roland Howard having preceded her in death at the age of 7 1/2 years. Her health had not been very good since last spring, but she was confined to her bed only about six weeks.

In 1920 she and her husband became members of the Locust Street Methodist church at Greencastle. With the exception of living three months in West Virginia, her entire life was spent in this county.

She did not devote her life to public service, but she lived for her children. She fought their battles with them, rejoicing over victory, sorrowing at defeat, seldom scolding, always forgiving. She protected and shielded them, guiding and influencing more by her own virtuous and righteous life than by mere words of advice. Her untiring sacrifice, and unflinching love is indelibly stamped on the hearts and memories of her family.

The controlling factors in her life might be summed up in three words: Self-sacrifice, Righteousness, and Love.

She gave to her children an inheritance as rare as it is precious; and has left the world better for having lived.

Two of her sons are in the service of their country—Lt. Fay, of the Army Air Forces, and Pvt. Elbert of the U. S. Army, overseas.

Mourning her absence are the husband; six children—Arthur, and Mrs. Fern Thomas of Indianapolis, Estel of Plainfield, Paul of Los Angeles, California, Fay of Stuttgart, Arkansas; and Elbert of the Hawaiian Islands; five daughters-in-law, and seven-in-law, nine grandchildren, four sisters—Mrs. Ada Bowman, Mrs. Flossie Cummings, and Mrs. Olive Davis all of Greencastle; six brothers—James, Elmer, and Jesse of Greencastle, John of Poland, Roy of Belle Union, and Walter of Greencastle, and many other relatives and friends.

"We saw her suffer, heard her sigh With throbbing hearts, and weeping eyes

But now she calmly sleeps at last All pain, all suffering past."

"We loved her, yes, no tongue can tell

How much we loved her and how well

God loved her too, and he thought best

To take her home where she could rest."

To those that are grief-stricken we would say:

"Be still, sad heart, and cease re- pinning

Behind the cloud is the sun still shining

Thy fate is the common fate of all, Into each life some rain must fall. Some days must be dark and dreary."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the neighbors and friends for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of my wife, and mother. We especially want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Reed, the pall bearers, the Rev. McClure and those who sent the beautiful floral offerings.

Your comforting expressions of sympathy will always be remembered with deep gratitude.

Bradford Jones and Family

SOLDIER READING CHANGES ABOARD A TRANSPORT EN ROUTE TO GUAM—(Delayed)—Literature lovers at home who have qualms about the so-called deterioration of servicemen's reading habits would find comfort these days were they to walk around the decks of this transport and see the reading material on the preferred exchange "market."

Comic books may once have been the servicemen's favorite literature, as one survey purportedly revealed, but if that was once true, it is obviously so no longer. For example, try to trade even half dozen colored comic books for a single unread copy of a book like "Mission to Moscow." Experienced transport travelers, as these Marine assault troops are, never fail to come aboard ship without a book or two in their packs or pockets. After reading, the exchange begins as the men swap books and magazines. On long voyages, such as this, it is not unusual for a single book to be thumbed by 25 or 50 readers.

Books of fact, historical fiction, on biography seem to take preference. Detective mysteries are always popular, but it often takes two or more of these in exchange for books of a more serious nature.

The small, pocket-size volumes are a blessing to the literature-hungry servicemen with days of free time ahead of them. Handy, compact, you will find them being read in chow lines, while awaiting formations, and even in the troop compartments where the men stand in line to use limited washing facilities.

In this respect, the paper-bound complete books in Armed Services Editions, prepared by Council on Books in Wartime, and distributed without cost, are in valuable. They have made available popular books, both classics and present best sellers, which a great percentage of servicemen would otherwise never have had time or opportunity to read.

Some of the popular among the Council's list of publications are Joseph C. Grew's "Report From Tokyo"; Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist"; John Steinbeck's "Tortilla Flat"; "The Human Comedy," by William Saroyan; Antoine De Saint Exupery's "Wind, Sand, and Stars"; Hervey Allen's "Action and Aquila"; and "Lord Jim," by Joseph Conrad.

The variety offered by these books shows a broad reading interest. Despite the wide circulation of the pocket publications, however, there is still a shortage. The troops in this convoy, with few duties while under way, have been aboard ship for days. By now, the books brought aboard have almost made the complete circulation rounds and readers have either begun re-reading them or turning to any scrap of printed matter from month-old newspapers to the labels on piles of equipment.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause raging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, heartaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FERTILIZER PROTECTION

Fifty years of protection for Indiana farmers is the result of a state law which requires that commercial fertilizers meet the guarantees under which they are sold. Under this law, all fertilizer sold, offered, or exposed for sale must be tagged with Indiana state fertilizer tags. These tags show the guaranteed percentage of total nitrogen, either the total or available phosphoric acid, and the water-soluble potash.

F. W. Quackenbush, Indiana state chemist, with headquarters at Purdue University, reveals that the inspection service of his department shows a recent increase in the number of deficient shipments. War conditions are affecting the composition of fertilizers being offered for sale in Indiana, due to the following:

1. Short spring and fall seasonal periods of demand for fertilizer instead of a 12-month demand.
2. Unskilled help.
2. Unskilled help.
2. Unskilled help.
2. Unskilled help.
2. Unskilled help.

6. An ever increasing consumption of and demand for fertilizers. It is estimated that the 12 million tons of commercial fertilizer to be sold in 1944-45 is a 50 per cent increase above the amount sold five years ago.

When fertilizer is delivered without state tags or improperly tagged, in poor mechanical condition, or if it shows evidence of shortage of weight, the purchaser may request an inspection and analysis free of charge. The request should be addressed to the State Chemist, Department of Agricultural Chemistry, at Purdue.

"I saw thousands of men whose lives were saved by plasma"—J. L. Col. Bernice Wilbur, Army Nurse Corps, wrote following the North African campaign. One pint of your blood may save a life in Europe or the South Pacific. Call number 4 or 418 and make an appointment for September 28 or 29 when the Red Cross mobile unit visits Greencastle.

"I PRIDE MYSELF on my own corn muffins but truly this quick way (Flakorn) is 100 per cent perfect" writes a lady from New England. And most housewives have the same experience.
